THE PRESIDENT'S GIFTS

As estimated in the gossip of the republican cloak rooms of congress, the gifts received by President Wilson from the rulers and people of Europe were worth any sum between a vague "half a million" and a more indefinite "several millions" of dollars. This immense valuation was placed on them by the partisans not as a measure of President Wilson's popularity in Europe, but as a spur to criticism of him at home.

Now the truth is revealed in the official list of the gifts and appraisal of their value—which intrinsically is rather small. It discloses that the republican critics, including Senator Sherman and Representative Rodenberg, were as far from right in their guesses on this subject as they usually are in respect to other statements. The presents are neither so costly as the orators declared nor yet so cheap as these gentlemen must feel after having got the fact—against their will.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

We publish this week the proclamation of Gov. Roberts calling attention of the citizens of Tennessee to the necessity of giving serious attention to the spirit of lawlessness that seems to permeate our entire state. He calls upon the people to observe a law and order week, the object of which shall be to stir up a stronger sentiment for law enforcement, to impress the dignity of the law and the necessity for it to be upheld to insure continued peace in our state.

From some reason there seems to be a wave of lawlessness and crime sweeping over the country. But few communities, if any, are immune to its influence. The power of the law and those whose sworn duty it is to enforce the law seem powerless and incapable of staying the tide. Stealing, murdering, making, selling and drinking whisky and evils incident thereto are prominent among the crimes committed. Even in Carroll county, it is said that numerous illicit distilleries are operated and the sale of whisky is growing to be an industry of great profit. This is being done, if done at all, in violation of state and federal laws and the officials of the law seem powerless to stop it.

What we need in the state is a stronger public sentiment against lawlessness of all kinds. There is nothing more effectual in correcting evils than a strong public sentiment against those evils, expressed in such a way as to carry conviction that the public will not stand for them. Public sentiment back of law, and the officers of law, makes law enforcement more effectual and more powerful.

If law enforcement week, suggested by Gov. Roberts, succeeds in strengthening the law enforcement sentiment, it will be a week well spent. It will be such a success if the manhood of the state will assert itself and show that these evil influences, that are undermining the social fabric of the state, and making laws ineffectual and a farce, must be met and overcome, and that our laws must be maintained.

It is a worthy effort upon the part of our governor and we hope to see a hearty and cordial response to the call for action. There should be some action taken in every district in Carroll county.

Republicans in Massachusetts have notified Senator Lodge that they will not follow him to the length of defeating the treaty. In this yearning to be a great leader, Senator Lodge evidently got so far ahead of the republican organization in his state that it couldn't see him.

West—Cox

A wedding of much interest to a wide circle of friends occurred in Huntingdon at the M. E. church, south, Wednesday afternoon at half-past three o'clock, when Miss Frances Clayton Cox, of Huntingdon, became the bride of Mr. Augustus Southwest West, of Nashville, Rev. D. B. Raulins officiating.

The church was artistically decorated with palms, ferns, garlands of Jackson vines and French baskets of pink flowers.

A musical program was given by Mrs. Marshall F. Priest, organist, Mr. Frank Tobey singing "When We Are Together" and "Because," and Mr. Marshall Priest, "With You" and "Until." "Sweetest Story Ever Told" was played during the ceremony. The bridal party entered to Mendelssohn's Wedding March and left the church by Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Dr. James Berry Cox. She was beautiful in a gown of ivory satin and tulle with silver and lace trimmings and tulle veil adjusted with bowknot of silver ribbon and sprays of orange blossoms, over a court train of ivory satin, her shower bouquet being bride roses and valley lilies.

Miss Mary Priestly Cox, sister of the bride, maid of honor, appeared in turquoise satin with silver trimmings, carrying a shower bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaids, Misses Mary and Lenora Hawkins, Mary Townes and Patty Ready West, sister of the groom, wore pink tulle over satin, with picture hats of georgette crepe to harmonize, and bouquets of Killarney roses. Little Miss Louise Priest and Master John Heiskel, of Memphis, were flower children, and Miss Sarah Ware, ring bearer, the girls appearing in white net with French trimmings.

Mr. Manier West, brother of the groom, was best man, and Lieut. Geo. T. McCall, Jr., Mr. Joe B. West, Lieut. John E. McCall, Jr., of Memphis, and Lieut. Joe. W. McCall, of Camp Grant, Illinois, groomsmen.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the decorations being of ferns and baskets of pink roses. Dr. and Mrs. Cox were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. West, Mrs. Cox being gowned in taupe satin and Mrs. West in black tulle over silver cloth with jet trimmings. The menu carrying out the pink color motif, was served from a prettily appointed table with Cluny lace cloth and wedding cake as central ornament.

The bride's gifts to her attendants were green-gold pins, and the groom presented his attendants with silver monogram belt buckles. The bride and groom were recipients of many handsome presents.

The bride is an accomplished and talented young lady, popular in social circles, and the groom is a promising young business man. They left on the 6 o'clock train for Chicago, the bride wearing a suit of blue duvetyne with brown accessories. They will be at home to their friends at 1516 Hawkins street, Nashville, after November 15th.

The out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Jos. R. West, Mr. Manier West, Miss Patty Ready West, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hirsig, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. R. McCall, Mrs. Elizabeth Shannon West, Misses Frances Hillman, Annie Culbert and Louise Goodloe, and Mr. J. M. Whitsitt, of Nashville; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. West, of Louisville, Ky.; Judge and Mrs. John E. McCall, Mr. and Mrs. Lamar E. Heiskell, Lieut.

"POKER FACE" HAS ITS USE

Ability to Hide Emotion Will Frequently be Found of Value in Game of Life.

Princeton is about to send 116 graduates out into the world. Some of them are whimsical young fellows, as would appear by the way they filled out questionnaires which asked them, among other things, what of most value had been received by them in their college course. One reflective senior avowed unblushingly that it was "his allowance." For others, "checks," "a poker face," "the art of bluffing," "learning how to loaf scientifically," were their acquisitions of highest worth.

The value of no one of these can be gainsaid, for most lives bring emergencies when any one of them may be of the highest use. There are some who may be skeptical of the advantages of the "poker face." Yet who can doubt the value on occasion of a poised, impassive, imperturbable countenance which gives no slightest hint of the hopes and fears it masks.

A physiognomy under complete control is almost essential to a diplomat, and this ability to hide emotions behind a changeless exterior goes far to give the Japanese envoys the reputation of being the best poised statesmen. Countenances which light up with emotion are more attractive. Wooden faces are never winning in the usual acceptance of the word. But they are the winning faces in two at least of the exciting games of life, diplomacy and poker.—Rochester Post Express.
